⚡ PRIMARY CATALYST — THE REASON IT MOVES NOW

Anupam Rasayan's ~₹2,199 Cr takeover — a 43.3% promoter-stake buyout plus a mandatory 26% open offer, both at ₹299/share — hands control to a specialty-chem major; but at ₹434 the stock already trades ~45% ABOVE the offer, so the deal is a downside risk, not a floor, for new buyers.

CATEGORY	QUANTIFIED IMPACT	PROBABILITY	WINDOW
Capital Action / Ownership (M&A — change of control)	₹299 offer = ~31% BELOW CMP; deal economics ≈ ₹3,160 Cr vs ₹4,596 Cr mkt cap	H — binding SPA signed, DPS out	Open offer 16-29 Jul 2026; control shift <6 mo

Priced in? Over-priced. Stock ran +45% above the ₹299 offer on takeover euphoria & retail momentum (multiple 20% upper circuits to a record ₹443). The offer gives NO downside support at ₹434 — tendering would lock a ~31% loss. NOT priced: any disappointment in Anupam's integration plan or a froth unwind back toward the ₹299 anchor. · Source: SPA dated 23-May-2026; open-offer DPS ~01-Jun-2026 (scanx / Business Standard)

BULL

₹490-520

+13-20%: Anupam articulates a clear synergy/re-rating roadmap; momentum & earnings upgrades carry it to fresh highs.

BASE

₹360-400

-8 to -17%: event passes, speculative froth partly unwinds, re-anchors toward fundamentals at a still-rich ~28-30x.

BEAR

₹290-300

-31%: froth fully reverts to the ₹299 deal anchor (open offer 31% below CMP caps sentiment) or deal/regulatory delay.

A near-debt-free, growing branded-generics exporter (suppositories leader, African anti-malarial franchise) is changing hands — but the takeover bid is the trap, not the prize: at ₹434 the stock is priced ~45% above the ₹299 offer, so new entrants carry full equity-market risk with a 31% air pocket down to the deal anchor and no offer-price protection.

WHAT THE STREET IS PRICING IN

Formal sell-side coverage is thin and stale. The most recent flagged note (Choice India) carried a Buy at a ₹231–240 target — set before the deal and now ~45% below CMP, so it offers no read on the takeover. With the tape at ₹434 vs a ₹299 offer, the market is pricing a much higher eventual outcome than the deal economics: either a sweetened/revised offer, or a re-rating under a deep-pocketed specialty-chem parent. IN the price: takeover optionality + ~50% FY26 PAT growth (₹135 Cr) at 35x P/E. NOT in the price: the downside if the open offer simply clears at ₹299 and the speculative premium reverts. No analyst target currently sits near CMP — a vacuum that cuts both ways.

KEY LEVELS & TRADE FRAME

Entry zone	Stand aside ₹434; long only on ₹300–325 reset*
Stop (below ₹299 deal anchor)	₹289*
Target 1 / Target 2	₹300 / ₹360*
R:R · suggested size	Negative skew at CMP · ≤2% only on reset

*Approx — verify on chart (no live DMA feed). Targets sit below CMP, reflecting the downside skew: this is a stand-aside, not a fresh long, at ₹434. Not a clean short either (live takeover bid, squeeze/borrow risk, no delisting).

AVOID

Chasing a stock 45% above its own ₹299 takeover offer into a defined open-offer window — on 35x P/E and 11.6% ROE — is poor risk/reward: limited upside to froth, a 31% air pocket to the deal anchor, no offer-price protection. Stand aside; re-engage only on a reset toward ₹300–325 or a sweetened bid. Flips the call: a revised/higher open-offer price, or an explicit Anupam Rasayan value-creation roadmap (synergies, capex, re-rating) that durably justifies a price well above ₹299.
